From the Principal’s Desk…

Welcome back for another exciting term of learning. Hopefully everyone has had time to relax and rejuvenate for a fun term of exciting and challenging activities.

Especially this term there are a lot of educational experiences and special weeks for mums and dads to participate in with their children. (Education Week, Science Week, Book Week, National Literacy and Numeracy Week).

Invitations will be going home soon for parents and friends to attend these events so start check your child’s school bag for notes and for those who have downloaded the school app. you will receive automatic notifications on your ipads or mobile phones.

The first semester student reports were sent home at the end of last term. If you have not received it or require an additional copy please notify your child’s teacher or the school so your requests can be met. Should you wish to discuss your child’s report please organize an appointment with your child’s teacher.

At the end of last term, myself and Ms. Trowell (P&C Vice-President) had a productive meeting with the Lord Mayor and several senior managers from the City of Sydney to address some of the pedestrian access issues around our school. The City of Sydney is now fully aware of these issues and has started implementing some initiatives to improve conditions.

Also at the end of last term the recorder group performed at the Opera House. It was truly an inspiring performance by all performers on the night. This was an incredible event showcasing the talented students and teachers in public education.

Thank you to the P&C Music Committee for organizing the Bourke Street Beats performance on the last day of Term 2. The Royal Navy Band arrived and initially I think the student thought we were under attack. About 30 men and women in uniform alighted from a bus and in true military precision set up their band for a memorable performance. People were coming from everywhere in the neighbourhood to see what was going on. By the end of the performance everyone was up and dancing and the children felt it was the best performance ever.

We need your spare LEGO!

As part of K/1D, 1G and 3/4M’s fundraising day on Sept 4, we’d like all your spare Lego pieces to give to children in immigration detention.

Give your spare Lego to your teacher by FRIDAY AUGUST 29.

Thank you!

Lydia (K/1D), Gabi (1G) and Hetty (3/4M)
Dear parents and care givers,

A joint fundraiser for Chilout (Children out of Immigration Detention) and the Asylum Seekers Centre in Newtown will be held on September 4.

We’re asking you to find any spare Lego to donate to Chilout’s LegoConnect project (see attached) which gives Lego to children in immigration detention.

Please hand all your spare Lego to your class teacher by FRIDAY AUGUST 29.

Your class teacher will also ask the children to write letters of support and draw pictures to be included with the Lego donation. This will be given to a Chilout representative at assembly on Sept 4.

Gabi (parent of Jonah and Saul) is also asking for donations of non-perishable food that can be left in a box outside 1G class room. This food will be given to asylum seeker clients of the Asylum Seekers Centre in Newtown. (www.asylumseekerscentre.org.au)

For more information on Chilout please go to: www.chilout.org

Many thanks for your support!

Gabi, Hetty and Lydia
What is LegoConnect?

It’s an opportunity for Australian children to donate Lego to children in immigration detention.

Why Lego and jewellery making?

Lego, beads and loom materials are usually in great condition even if they’ve been loved and used many times over.

Even if you lose the instructions, or don’t have a complete set, with enough pieces you can create something.

You can play for hours and create something new every time.

Whether built or unbuilt, it doesn’t take up much space. Children and families in detention have very minimal room.

Children in detention can swap pieces with one another, share and create together.

What age ranges should I focus on?

Literally 0-17. Large Duplo right through to intricate robotic style Lego for teens. Children in detention are just like children in Australia, all ages and with a whole range of interests. If something is suitable for under 3’s we will mark it so.

I can’t find the instructions. My set is not complete, my whole family’s Lego is all in one crazy box...

Second-hand, complete sets, bits and pieces, brand new sets - all are welcome. We will sort through mixed up sets and ensure that each individual box we make up is roughly equal (sharing out characters, wheels, cool parts etc). Even without instructions you can create heaps of fantastic things with Lego.
Can I send other toys / books etc?

Unfortunately no. The condition of other used toys is so varied and the weight, storage and postage issues would make it too complex. There are many charity outlets and services in most major towns and cities who provide assistance to asylum seeker families living in the community.

Is there a timeframe for my donations?

Sadly no. We will send individual boxes for as long as there are children detained. At regular intervals we will assess what we have across all collection points and then send to a particular centre every time there is enough to ensure that each child receives their own personal box.

Where will my Lego end up? Can you be sure it will reach children in detention?

There are currently* 983 children in indefinite detention on Nauru, Christmas Island and in facilities on the Australian mainland. ChilOut has agreement from relevant service providers that we can send individualised boxes of Lego and jewellery making items to each detention facility where children are held. You can track each of our LegoConnect deliveries on www.legoconnect.org.au

*correct as of 31 May 2014 see www.chilout.org for most up to date statistics

Couldn’t all the Lego just go in one big box to be shared?

There are toy rooms and recreation areas in some detention facilities. These are only open limited hours. Children have very few personal possessions inside detention and it is common to be moved from one detention facility to another many times. We wanted something that a child could keep in their room, take with them, write their name on, swap parts with friends, hide from their little sister...
Why not just raise lots of money and buy Lego?

We could. But that wouldn’t engage young Australians. We want school children to ask their siblings, friends, sporting teams, classmates, community groups if they would like to donate their Lego. We want Australian school children to proudly tell their friends that they are thinking about children just like them who are locked up. We want mothers groups, birthday parties, bbq’s to be talking about where their families unused Lego has gone.

Does the LegoConnect program need money?

Yes, it does need some. For the most part, LegoConnect will rely on volunteers. Many logistics are already in place but there will be some freight costs and a need to buy suitable boxes to put the presents in.

If you are collecting a big batch of Lego and loom kits, how about asking people to make a small financial contribution as well. You could have a donation tin at your collection point or they can donate online via chillout.org.au (all donations over $2 are tax deductible). We will promote this initiative far and wide and some people may prefer to give money. You do not need to spend any money to be part of this program (unless of course you are posting your generous gift to one of our collection points).

I want to involve my whole school/ town / community to collect HEAPS of Lego and loom kits and there is no collection point near me.

See the ideas in the question above – asking for small donations could cover your postage to the nearest collection point. OR get in touch with us at team@chilout.org and we will see what can be done about collection or subsidising your freight.

Can I send a card or letter with my donation?

Yes, you can.
Each box will have a sticker letting the child and family (if they are with theirs - some children are unaccompanied) know that the donation is a message of welcome and hope from an Australian child.

If you would like to add a letter, drawing or card – please do. Keep it positive, simple and if you are providing your name and contact details, do not be disheartened if you don’t receive a reply. There are a host of reasons for this; some asylum seekers cannot readily access stamps or mail boxes, some are not comfortable writing in English and more complex health and emotional reasons.
